Verbal Description

Modelled Censer fragment, one of those lovely flat pieces that we have yet to understand. The exterior is about as smooth as anything with this paste could hope to be. The surface shows light lengthwise striations. The interior is a bit rougher & the striations, while a bit larger, are not as uniform - some are perpendicular to others. I think this is a flat wall piece from one of those money censers like we found where Steve was working in 1990.
